

The extent to which thought is influenced by one's Impulse to create is reflected in the quality of works:
Through refinement, that which lacks a vital spark
Slowly fades into the shadows, as creativity cannot Stir the heart without a connection to the divine:
As manifestation mirrors aspects of higher levels
Of awareness: the material expression of one's Understanding conveyed in an infinite array of earthly
Forms: to pry beneath the external edifice of reality
Reveals a mystery as old as time itself, to move
Beyond a limitation mindset clears the way for True growth to occur: the various discoveries one
Makes in pursuit of cultivating the inner self reflected
In creative endeavors of every conceivable nature:
As the mind no longer resonates with a frequency of Low vibration: therefore, the way is clear for growth
Of a positive nature to redefine one's mental outlook.
